

Paraphilias

Amputee fetishism

Acrotomophilia is an intense desire for one's partner to be an amputee.

Apotemnophilia is an intense desire to be an amputee.

Boxing
Helena

Grindhouse

Amputee fetishism in Literature

Flannery O'Connor's short story "Good Country People" features a character whose prosthetic leg is stolen. The man who steals her leg travels about the country stealing people's prosthetics limbs— legs, a glass eye.

Venus de
Milo

Statuephilia

also called agalmatophilia, or Pygmalionism
after the myth of Pygmalion, is an uncommon sexual fetish that involves sexual attraction to statues or dolls.

Pygmalion & Galatea

by Jean-Léon
Gerome
19th C

Schediaphilia (aka toonophilia) sexual attraction to cartoon or anime characters.

Galactophilia: (a.k.a lactophilia) sexual attraction to human milk or lactating women

“Roman Charity”

Story known from old paintings showing a young woman nourishing an imprisoned old man by suckling him.

Also, The Grapes of Wrath by John Steinbeck & The White Hotel by D.M. Thomas

Symphrophilia
a: sexual attraction
with stage-
managing a disaster,
such as a traffic
accident

Urolagnia (also known as urophilia or undinism) sexual pleasure from urine & urination.

Havelock Ellis - British sexologist who was aroused by seeing women urinate.

Suggested Rembrandt also enjoyed the practice, claiming it explained the golden tones of his paintings.

Voyeurism: sexual pleasure from observing other people.

Zoophilia

An affinity or sexual attraction by a human to a non-human animal.

Europa & the Bull
Moreau, 1869

The Dream of the Fisherman's Wife, an 1820 woodcut depicting a woman dreaming of a sexual encounter with a pair of octopi.

Leda & the Swan

Michelangelo, 1530

Leonardo, 1515

Necrophilia

A sexual attraction to corpses.

Figuratively, the term “necrophilia” describes an inordinate desire to control another person.

Legality in the United States

As of May, 2006, there is no federal legislation specifically barring sex with a corpse.

Multiple states have their own laws:

- Alabama - Class C felony
- Alaska - Class A misdemeanor
- Arkansas - Class D felony
- California - Illegal, up to 8 years in prison
- Colorado - Class 2 misdemeanor
- Delaware - Class A misdemeanor
- Florida-- Second degree felony
- Georgia - Felony, up to 10 years in prison
- Hawaii - Misdemeanor
- Michigan - Class A felony; life in prison
- Oregon - Felony for "Abuse of Corpse"
- Pennsylvania - Second degree misdemeanor
- Washington - Class C Felony for "Sexually violation human remains"
- Minnesota and Nevada also have laws prohibiting necrophilia

Necrophilia in Literature & Film

- Toni Morrison's novel Song of Solomon
- William Faulkner's "A Rose for Emily"
- Algernon Swinburne's poem "The Leper"
- Robert Browning's poem "Porphyria's Lover"
- Egyptian mythology: the legends of Osiris & Isis
AND Achilles & Penthesilea
- Films: The Loved One AND Kissed